H-GAC supports a broad spectrum of Community and Economic Development programs that oversee federal and state grant programs to address water initiatives in rural communities and small cities, support regional workforce initiatives, downtown revitalization, and community beautification projects. We also partner with the Gulf Coast Small Business Finance Corporation and the Gulf Coast Economic Development District to provide community investment grants, support a rural enterprise revolving loan fund, conduct economic impact assessments, and provide a regional perspective via our monthly economic digest.

Join us for the next Environmental Awareness Roundtable to hear from Chuck Wemple, H-GAC's Community and Economic Development manager as he discusses these programs and partnership opportunities, including up-to-date Hurricane Ike resources, and food security initiatives taking place in our region.

The quarterly Environmental Awareness Roundtable is designed to facilitate idea-sharing between city staff, county staff, and community organizations to create effective environmental awareness campaigns.
