

Supplemental Information

C&D Website: The website for the construction and demolition debris study conducted for H-GAC by the Houston Advanced Research Center (HARC) is www.recyclecddebris.com

Earth 911/Cleanup.org: We referenced www.cleanup.org as a resource several times in the workshop. Look here for free PSAs and educational materials. It is also a great place to get free advertising for your program by adding your information to their database. Anyone can access their local recycling information by entering their zip code and selecting which service they are looking for.
