

JOB ACCESS REVERSE COMMUTE (JARC)-RELATED MOBILITY IMPROVEMENTS FOR
COLORADO VALLEY TRANSIT

Background

The Job Access and Reverse Commute (JARC) program provides funding from the Federal Transit Administration to improve transit access to jobs for low income individuals and to improve transit services to non-downtown employment centers. The Colorado Valley Transit Authority applied for and was awarded JARC funding in 2008. CVT has used the funding to expand transit service and provide additional mobility to residents in its service area.

Current Situation

Ms. Vastene Olier will brief the Technical Advisory Committee on the additional services CVT has been able to provide as a result of the JARC funds.
